'MURPHY TRIED TO GIVE ME MONEY,' SULZER CHARGES

Deposed Governor Tells James Creelman the Tammany Boss Wanted to Pay His Debts and Give Him Enough to Cover His Living Expenses While at Albany.

DESCRIBES BREAK OVER APPOINTMENTS

Chieftain Demanded That Certain Men Be Put Into Office and Threatened War When Refused, Declares Sulzer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Evening Mail published today a sensational statement from William Sulzer, removed last week from the office of Governor, in the form of a copyrighted interview given to James Creelman. In this interview Sulzer charges that Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, offered, between Sulzer's election and inauguration, to pay all his debts and put him on his feet financially. He says he refused the offer, but that Murphy afterward sought to dictate his appointments, and opened war on him because he would not submit to such dictation. In his statement to Creelman, Sulzer is quoted as saying:

"Just prior to taking office as Governor, either just before Christmas or between Christmas and New Year, I passed an afternoon with Murphy at his request at his private room in Delmonico's. His attitude was very friendly and confidential. He said he was my friend; that he knew my financial condition and wished to help me out. As he went on I was amazed at his knowledge of my intimate personal affairs. He said he was a party man, and that he was heavily in debt. Then he offered me money to pay my debts and have enough left to take things easy while Governor. "Did he say where this money was to come from?" Sulzer was asked. "He said this was really a party matter and that the money he would give me was party money; that I had been a popular candidate, easily elected and for less money than any other candidate in his recollection. "He said that nobody would know anything about it; that I could pay what I owed and go to Albany feeling easy financially. "He then asked me how much I needed, to whom I owed it, and other personal questions. "As I did not want to be tied hard and fast as Governor in advance, I declined Mr. Murphy's offer, saying I was paying off my debts gradually; that my creditors were friends and would not press me; that I was economical; that I would try to get along on my salary as Governor. "Offered to Pay Living Expenses. "He repeated his offer of money, saying it was for my party money; that the party that he was for did not want me to be hampered financially and that he (Murphy) would allow me whatever I needed above my salary for my living expenses while I was at the executive mansion. "But I refused again and then he said, 'If you need money at any time, let me know and you may have what you want. We cleaned up a lot of money on your campaign, I can afford to let you have what you want and never miss it.' "Then, coming down to the time after his inauguration, Sulzer told of a conversation by long-distance telephone which he had with Judge Edward E. McCall, now the Tammany nominee for Mayor of New York. He discussed the membership of the State Public Service Commission, Sulzer said, and Sulzer went to New York to see Mr. Murphy, and was met at the 125th street station in Harlem by McCall, who took him in an automobile to Murphy's house. Murphy, Sulzer said, demanded that his friend, John Galvin, be appointed Public Service Commissioner by Sulzer. "I urged the appointment," Sulzer said. "Of Henry Morcontian or George Foster Peabody or John Temple Graves." He said Murphy would not assent to any of these, and that finally he (Sulzer) "feared to appoint Judge McCall as a compromise selection. McCall said he would accept the place if Murphy should approve."

Sulzer Believes He Will Be Elected Governor Again. ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 20.—William Sulzer continues to predict that he will be the next Governor of New York, and has outlined to callers at the executive mansion the manner in which he intends to "come back" in next year's election. He believes he can get the Progressive nomination for the Assembly in his district, the Sixth of Manhattan, and that he will be elected. If elected to the Assembly, he will run for the speakership, in the hope of enlisting the support of the Progressives and direct nomination supporters, who he thinks will be in control. He will stump New York in the interest of the ruston ticket, headed by John P. Mitchell for Mayor. It is reported that there is opposition in the Progressive party councils to making Sulzer a nominee, and that Chairman Bird of the New York committee of the party had disapproved the idea.

SNOWEMBER IN OCTOBER!

The first snow of the season fell in St. Louis Monday. Just when it started to fall is known only to a few owl car-crawlers and passengers who went home and to bed without leaving an entry in the log. The snow continued to fall as the morning wore on, but the ground was so wet that it soon melted. There is an old saying that the first snow of the season falls on wet ground, the winter will not be severe.

The flakes did not break the record for an early snow. Last year the first snow fell Sept. 29, which was the earliest snowfall recorded since the Weather Bureau started to keep snow records, in 1884.

The latest date on which a first snow of the winter fell was in the winter of 1891-92. In that season no snow fell until January, 1892.

Official forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Fair tonight and tomorrow; freezing temperature tonight, with a minimum of about 30, rising temperature tomorrow.

Missouri—Fair tonight and tomorrow; frost tonight; rising temperature tomorrow.

Illinois—Generally fair tonight and tomorrow; colder in northeast portion tonight; frost tonight.

Stage of the river: 4.7 feet; no change.

THREE YEARS IN POLITICS, NOW PRESIDENT OF U. S.

On Oct. 20, 1910, Wilson Quit Academic Life to Campaign for Governorship of New Jersey.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President Wilson three years ago today left the academic life he had led for 26 years and entered the political arena.

On Oct. 20, 1910, "President Wilson," for he was so titled as the head of Princeton University, appeared before the Board of Trustees and read his letter of resignation, inspired, as he said, because "the Democratic party of New Jersey nominated me for the office of Governor and the State and I deemed it my duty to accept the nomination. In view of Princeton's immemorial observance of obligations of service I could not have done otherwise."

After presenting his resignation Wilson started on a tour of the State, that evening he went to Flemington, N. J., where Joseph Patrick Tumulty, then Assemblyman in the New Jersey Legislature, spoke from the same platform.

"STOVES IN CARS WHEN ITS COLD ENOUGH FOR THEM"

McCulloch Says Heat Will Be Supplied When Needed, but It Isn't Cold Yet.

Stoves will be put in the street cars of St. Louis when it is cold enough for stoves. Capt. Robert McCulloch, president of United Railways made this announcement Monday in answer to a question by a reporter.

"Is it cold enough for stoves today?" Capt. McCulloch was asked.

"Certainly not," said the Captain. "It is not cold today."

"Some people seem to think it is cold," he informed.

"That may be true, but it is not. Street cars would be very uncomfortable with stoves in them now."

We have never failed yet to put stoves in the cars when they were needed. And we will not fail this year when they are needed. Good-by."

PAPERS IN BOND FORFEIT AGAINST VETTE DISAPPEAR

Harvey Discovers $800 Never Was Collected From Money Lender in 1910 Case.

ALPHONSE HOWE LAWYER

Circuit Attorney Says Absence of Records Will Hamper Effort to Recover.

That the records in a bond forfeiture case against John H. Vette, money lender, involving $800, had disappeared mysteriously from the files of the criminal division of the Circuit Court, and also from the clerk's office, was revealed Monday by a motion filed by Circuit Attorney Harvey.

The motion was filed by the Circuit Attorney in Judge Hennings' court in an effort to collect the bond. Vette signed an $800 bond for David Rose, May 27, 1910, according to Circuit Attorney Harvey's motion, and Rose failed to appear in the Court of Criminal Correction, June 15, July 3 or July 25, 1910, when his case was called up for trial. He was charged with assault to do great bodily harm.

Ordered Bond Forfeited. Judge Wilson A. Taylor, then in charge of division No. 2 of the Court of Criminal Correction, ordered the bond forfeited. The case then was certified from the Court of Criminal Correction to the Circuit Court for Criminal Causes for further action.

When Circuit Attorney Harvey learned that the bond forfeiture had not been enforced against Vette he started Assistant Circuit Attorney Fitzgerald on a search for the papers. Fitzgerald was unable to find them.

Henry C. Echterhoff, clerk of the Circuit Court for Criminal Causes, said he remembered the case. About a year ago, according to his recollection, it came up before Judge Taylor, who had been elected to the circuit bench, for a hearing. Alphonsus Howe, brother of Joseph D. Howe, was attorney for Vette. Echterhoff said. Seibert Jones was Circuit Attorney and it was the duty of his office to enforce the bond forfeiture.

Clerks Unable to Explain It. Echterhoff said he had not heard of the case until it was taken under advisement and had no knowledge of how the papers disappeared. Martin Tufford, clerk in Division No. 12, in which the cases were pending, said he was unable to account for the missing papers.

Circuit Attorney Harvey said the loss of the papers would hamper his office in enforcing the collection of the bond. If the papers were not found, he said, he would call in Vette and put him on the witness stand to testify that he had signed the bond for Rose.

DUCHESS OF AOSTA GOES INTO DARKEST AFRICA

Remarkable Woman, Who Was Nurse in War, Makes Fourth Journey Into Wilds.

NAPLES, Oct. 20.—The Duchess Elena of Aosta departed yesterday for Cairo to make her fourth journey across Central Africa. The trip will take four or five months, during part of which the Duchess will be in the heart of Darkest Africa.

As a nurse in Tripoli in the recent war, prominent also in relief work following the Messina earthquake, the Duchess long has been regarded as one of the most remarkable women in Italy, her various activities having been carried on despite recurrent reports that she was in ill health.

Pope Pius Much Improved. ROME, Oct. 20.—During the past fortnight the condition of the Pope has improved greatly. He has resumed his audiences, and received the Right Rev. Francis Mostyn, Bishop of Menefiel, Wales, who found the pontiff looking better than ever before, bright, alert and keen.

HADLEY'S JOB MAY KEEP HIM FROM SENATE RACE

Former Governor May Be Forced to Move to Chicago to Value Railroads' Property.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 20.—Former Gov. Herbert S. Hadley departed this afternoon for St. Louis and Chicago to ascertain if it will be necessary to move from Missouri to Chicago to handle the work of physical valuation for which the railroads have employed him.

Hadley is one of five lawyers selected to represent railroads before the Interstate Commerce Commission in making a valuation. Hadley and one other will represent all railroads west of the Mississippi. The names of Hadley's four associates have not been announced.

If Hadley must remove from Missouri it will eliminate him as a United States senatorial possibility and would interfere with his reported candidacy for the presidency in 1916. He says the employment with the railroads will not cause him to abandon politics.

"I intend to continue active in politics and if there should come any demand I shall again be a candidate for public office," he said.

He declared it would give him pleasure to contest with William J. Stone.

HARVARD EXPERT TELLS OF ARSENIC IN EATON'S BODY

Says at Trial of Admiral's Widow Vital Organs Were 'Permeated' With Poison.

16.67 GRAINS WERE FOUND

Witness Testifies That Part of the Poison Was Thrown Off Before Death.

By Associated Press. BLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 20.—Prof. William F. Whitney of the Harvard Medical School was called to the stand today in the trial of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, to recount the result of his analysis of the organs removed from the body of Admiral Eaton.

Prof. Whitney testified that the vital organs of the Admiral's body were "permeated" with arsenic. He found a total of 16.67 grains of the poison.

Replying to a hypothetical question asked by District Attorney Barker, at the suggestion of Judge Aiken, the witness said that his discoveries would indicate that the poison had been taken in more than one dose, and that the first dose was probably taken within a few hours of the time of suffering began. The hypothetical question supposed that the patient became ill on Thursday and died Saturday. In the opinion of the witness, indications were that the sick man had received poison six hours before he died.

The witness said that a large amount of the poison received by the Admiral had been thrown off, that the body probably had rid itself of several times the amount that had been retained. The poison must have been taken on through the mouth, either pure or in some fluid, in order to have reached the stomach in the form found, he said.

Prof. Whitney said that death was not caused by the arsenic in the form to be found in the paries green kept in the Eaton home.

Arsenic Easily Detected. On cross-examination Prof. Whitney admitted that the presence of a large quantity of arsenic in a person's stomach led to the presumption that it was self-administered, because it was so easily detected. He said that the poison might have been in the Admiral's system the day before he was taken ill, but that one who had taken 15 grains of arsenic would suffer intense pains.

He said that the conditions were inconsistent with a theory that the poison had been administered in many doses. The first dose was probably taken within an hour of dinner time on Thursday, he said.

A letter written by Mrs. Eaton to Prof. Whitney in 1909, when the chemist was examining the digestive organs of an adopted child of the Eatons who had died suddenly, was introduced.

The writer said in part: "Will you kindly inform me how much longer it will be before you can state exactly what my dear little healthy, strong child died from? I am here alone in this isolated place with my husband, Admiral J. G. Eaton, whom I know to be a dangerous, insane man."

"Now please search for foreign poisons, as he has talked to me freely about foreign poisons, and he has said the cleverness of a maniac and is cunning enough to use one that would be hard to detect. He has been planning my death all day today, and yet I am powerless, and I trust on the finding of poison to have him examined for insanity and taken care of."

Prof. William Balch, another chemist from the Harvard Medical School, testified that in his opinion poison was administered to Admiral Eaton in more than one dose. He said that arsenic might be taken with tea, with salaratus and water, with milk and with certain other beverages without detection by the patient.

WILSONS HOLD RECEPTION

500 Missionary Delegates Guests at White House; Also Prince.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President and Mrs. Wilson held their first public reception today since last spring. They received 500 delegates of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Immediately afterward, at the request of the State Department, the Prince of Monaco was received.

ROBBERS START OIL FIRE THAT ROUTS RESIDENTS

Explosions Follow Attempt to Blow Safe in Standard Office Near Alton.

Fire believed to have been started by yegmen in their attempt to blow a safe in the Standard Oil Co.'s sales depot at Yager Park, a mile east of Alton, destroyed the depot and caused a series of explosions which caused Yager Park residents to flee from their homes, Monday morning.

In the last five years six attempts have been made to blow the safe in the office of this sales depot.

Shortly after the fire was discovered at 2 a. m. two men were seen running from the neighborhood of the office and jump on a passing freight train. They are thought to have been the yegmen.

After destroying six carloads of oil in the sales depot, the fire still was burning at 10 a. m. It had spread to the north house, in which were five barrels of naphtha, which is more explosive than gasoline.

Yager Park residents who had returned to their homes after the sales depot had burned again were routed out, and advised to flee.

There was no means of fighting the flames, as the sales depot is outside the Alton fire limits and Yager Park has no fire department. The damage after the destruction of the oil house was estimated at $30,000 by Standard Oil employees.

The sales depot supplies all the oil used in Alton. It is a one-story brick building 20 feet long and 30 feet wide. The office is under the same roof as the storage rooms and adjoins them. The nearest houses are about 100 yards away.

Gus Rexford, who first saw the fire from the front window of his home, told of the two men who ran, apparently from the office, and jumped on the train.

The day's receipts, sometimes amounting to several hundred dollars, are kept in the office safe. The isolated location of the office has made it a mark for yegmen. The safe twice has been blown and robbed, despite the risk of blowing it so close to barrels of explosive oils. Four other attempts to blow the safe have been unsuccessful.

KAISER IS TO BE REPRESENTED AT BUSCH'S FUNERAL

German Monarch Instructs Foreign Office to Convey His Condolences to Family.

By Associated Press. BERLIN, Oct. 20.—Emperor William today instructed the German Foreign Office to convey, through the German Embassy at Washington, His Majesty's regrets at the death of the late Adolphus Busch of St. Louis, at whose funeral he will be represented.

The steamship conveying the body of Adolphus Busch is due to arrive Tuesday in New York. The arrangements for the funeral will not be completed until the arrival of the party in St. Louis, which likely will be on Wednesday.

The following wireless message was received Sunday by Mrs. August A. Busch from her husband, who is on the Kronprinz Wilhelm, accompanying the body of his father:

"Voyage all right thus far. Weather very pleasant. All on board feeling fine."

Excort for Funeral Party. Congressmen Richard Bartholdt and L. C. Dyer, and Secretary of Agriculture David F. Houston, will leave Washington Monday night to join Edward A. Faust and Charles Nagel in New York to act as escort to the funeral party to St. Louis.

The body will be brought to St. Louis on the private car "Adolphus," and on its arrival the car will be transferred to the private tracks of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, which lead directly to Busch place near the Busch residence, where the body will lie in state.

Resolutions of condolence on the death of Adolphus Busch were adopted Sunday by the Tenth Ward Improvement Association over the objection of G. A. Hoehn, editor of St. Louis Labor, a Socialist publication, who asserted that "passing the resolution the organization was 'bowing to the Busch millions.'"

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives and publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

WATSON BASES DEFENSE ON THE FREEDOM OF PRESS

Georgia Editor on Trial on Charge Involving Character of Matter Mailed by Him.

By Associated Press. AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—Thomas F. Watson, lawyer, publicist and one time presidential candidate of the "People's party," today was placed on trial in the United States District Court here on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails.

The specific charge against Watson is that he published in July, 1911, and April and May, 1912, certain alleged questions which he claimed were asked by Roman Catholic priests of persons in confession, which questions, the indictment alleges, were obscene. These questions appeared in a series of articles attacking the Roman Catholic Church and especially the priesthood.

It is the plan of the defense to conduct its fight upon the ground that the articles published in Watson's magazine were written by Watson as editor and that his conviction on the charges, as set out in the indictment, would be in violation of the provisions for freedom of the press as guaranteed in the Constitution of the United States.

United States Attorney Akerman asserted that no church officials had been summoned to testify for the State, and it was said no witnesses would be introduced by the defense.

After hearing a long argument by Watson's attorneys on a motion to quash the indictment, the Court reserved decision and adjourned till tomorrow.

KILLED IN FOOTBALL GAME

Kankakee Player's Skull and Neck Broken and Ribs Injured.

KANKAKEE, Ill., Oct. 20.—A. J. Kramer, 21 years old, died today as the result of injuries in a football game yesterday between Grant Park and Kankakee Athletics. He was hurt in an impact with Howard Reed. Kramer's skull was fractured, neck broken and several ribs dislocated. The accident occurred about two minutes before the end of the game.

MRS. PANKHURST ADMITTED; MUST DEPART ON NOV. 27

Immigration Board's Order of Deportation Overruled After Conference Between President and Secretary Wilson; Militant Suffragette Leader Required to Give No Bond.

Herbert Reeves, Attorney for Detained British Woman, Assures Commissioner Caminetti That She Will Not Preach Militancy While in This Country.

She Lands in New York and Is Met Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont; First Lecture, Which Was to Have Been Tonight, Postponed Until Next Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant British suffragist, is free to enter the United States. The Ellis Island board's order of deportation was reversed today, after President Wilson had conferred on the case with Secretary Wilson and a hearing had been concluded before Immigration Commissioner Caminetti.

Secretary Wilson announced at the conclusion of his conference with the President that Mrs. Pankhurst would be admitted upon her own recognizance, with the understanding that she would depart at the end of her lecture engagements, Nov. 27. No bond was exacted.

Secretary Wilson declared that he and the President had discussed the question briefly.

"We agreed," he said, "that Mrs. Pankhurst should be admitted on her own recognizance, as there is naturally an element of doubt whether her acts constituted moral turpitude or were political."

"Being admitted on her own recognizance, of course, if she violates any of our laws we have two remedies. Our courts may pass on her acts or we may deport her. There being the element of doubt as to whether moral turpitude or political offense was involved, we decided that we have sufficient safeguards and that there can be no harm in admitting her."

The decision by the President and Secretary Wilson was communicated to Commissioner-General Caminetti, who issued the formal order of release.

President Regards It as Policy. President Wilson's decision was a flexible interpretation, so that it was largely a question of policy. Commissioner Caminetti's decision was in strict accordance with the views of President Wilson and the Secretary of Labor. Mr. Caminetti filed a brief memorandum, recommending that Mrs. Pankhurst's admission on her own recognizance and announced that he would later file his reasons in writing.

There was no demonstration at the Immigration Bureau when the decision was announced. The audience of women, which had sat through the hearing, had departed. Mrs. Pankhurst's lawyers received the verdict with broad smiles and announced they would leave at once for New York.

At headquarters of the National Women's Suffrage Association the news was received joyously, but all the officers said they expected nothing else. Supporters of the suffrage movement in Congress received the announcement without making formal statements.

Hearing Resumed Today. Attorneys for Mrs. Pankhurst this morning resumed their argument before Commissioner Caminetti where they left off yesterday.

Today's hearing was more colorful than yesterday's, which was informal. Acting Secretary Post and Chief Parker of the Law Division sat with Commissioner Caminetti, and the array of attorneys was drawn up in a battery at a line of tables. There was a crush for admission to the small chamber, and it quickly was filled with women, who did not reveal their sympathies.

Reeves Presents Long Brief. Herbert Reeves, attorney for the British leader, first presented a long brief, reviewing first the facts and then contending that the acts of which Mrs. Pankhurst had been convicted in England were purely political offenses and did not involve moral turpitude, the real question at issue.

His argument was long and technical and cited portions of decisions in many immigration cases and of some of the works of John Bassett Moore, now acting Secretary of State and an authority on international law. He quoted Mrs. Pankhurst's testimony before the immigration inspectors at Ellis Island and concluded:

"From that testimony, it is respectfully submitted that at the time of the ation of the acts complained of. Mrs. Pankhurst, if any were committed by her, were crimes purely of a political nature and not such as to involve moral turpitude.

No Moral Turpitude Shown.
The more delivery of lectures for speeches urging women to strive for what she believed to be their legal and political rights is certainly an act intended to forward and help a political cause and such act, therefore, must be deemed, if an offense at all, a political offense.

"Nor can it be claimed or successfully ascertained that the more urging of her hearers to destroy property, if necessary to bring about the desired result, is an act involving moral turpitude."

Mr. Reeves announced that if the decision went against Mrs. Pankhurst, he would ask Commissioner Caminetti to admit her under bond to fill her lecture engagements. He declared Mrs. Pankhurst had engaged passage back to England on the steamer Majestic, sailing from New York Nov. 27 and cited that as an evidence that Mrs. Pankhurst did not intend to remain in the United States.

F. S. O'Neill then took up the argument for admission of Mrs. Pankhurst.

Will Not Preach Militancy.
He referred to Mrs. Pankhurst's pledge that she would conduct herself in a lawful manner while in this country. "She has made that pledge to the American people and she will keep it," declared the lawyer.

"In every shop and factory in this land today women's hands are bowed in a fearful manner while in this country."

Commissioner Caminetti asked if Mrs. Pankhurst intended to preach militancy here.

"Emphatically no," responded O'Neill. "We have her assurances on that point and we state them to you as strongly as possible."

Mrs. Pankhurst Lands in New York; Lecture Is Postponed to Wednesday

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst left Ellis Island and came to New York shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. A motor car of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, suffrage leader, met her at the pier and she was driven to Mrs. Belmont's home.

The management of Madison Square Garden announced that, in deference to Mrs. Pankhurst's desire to get a good rest, the mass meeting was to have addressed tonight had been postponed till Wednesday night.

Early this morning, before her admission to the United States had been decided upon, Mrs. Pankhurst issued a statement in which she declared she would go on a hunger strike if she was deported.

"If the United States orders my deportation I will go on a hunger strike," Mrs. Pankhurst said this morning. "If I do the officials of this country who have denied me the liberty that I have always known as the watchword of the United States will have my life on their hands. For I do not think I could in my present enfeebled condition endure another 24 hours of a hunger strike. I am sure it would kill me."

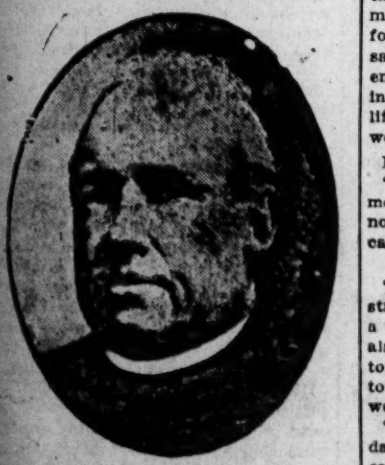

"You see, I have undergone five hunger strikes since the beginning of the year, and the efforts, coupled with the suffering I had to undergo from the brutal methods of forcible feeding adopted, have weakened me. One more day of such an effort would probably bring on coma and death."

"But just so surely as the officials decide against me I'll go on the strike." All the suffragettes present at the time clustered about Mrs. Pankhurst in excited sympathy when she announced her ultimatum. And Mrs. Belmont and Miss Joan Wolkham, Mrs. Pankhurst's business agent, both said that there wasn't the slightest exaggeration in Mrs. Pankhurst's statement that a 24-hour fast would end fatally. They said her experience in the English prisons had entirely depleted her strength.

Her Appetite Is Good.
However, when Mrs. Pankhurst is using her appetite it is a most excellent one. For a little while of a woman, her breakfast at Ellis Island yesterday, for instance, was no bird-like affair. It consisted of grapefruit, porridge, ham and eggs and strong coffee, and for luncheon, lamb chops, fried potatoes, buttered toast and more coffee. And for dinner, filet mignon with mushrooms, buttered toast, coffee and jam.

Mrs. Belmont told Mrs. Pankhurst of an offer from the New York Hippodrome to the effect that they would like Mrs. Belmont and Mrs. Pankhurst to appear

NAMED BY THE PEOPLE

Fifty years ago Rev. Father John J. Brennan of St. Louis, Mo., recommended to his parishioners and friends the prescription that restored him to health and strength, so the people named it Father John's Medicine. It cures colds, heals throat and lungs and builds up the body.

As a guarantee that the story of Father John's Medicine is absolutely true, the sum of $25,000.00 will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown otherwise.

STEAMSHIP OFFICIALS UNMOVED BY THREAT OF HUNGER STRIKE

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—MR. EMMELINE PANKHURST, the militant English suffragette, held at Ellis Island pending decision at Washington on the question of her deportation, ate a hearty breakfast this morning.

An official of the French Line, owners of the steamship La Provence, on which Mrs. Pankhurst will be deported, if her appeal is denied, was quoted today as saying that Mrs. Pankhurst's threat to go on a hunger strike if she were sent back.

"If Mrs. Pankhurst will not partake of the food provided for her and the other passengers, she may do as she pleases. If the English lady prefers to die, it is her affair."

Mr. Caminetti announced that he would not take into consideration the suffragette's lecture contracts, nor would he consider arguments pertaining to the recent case of Marie Lloyd, the English musical hall singer.

Copies of clippings from London newspapers on activities and arrests of Mrs. Pankhurst were excluded from the record and the hearing was closed with Commissioner Caminetti's announcement that he would give an opinion later today.

While the hearing was in progress, President Wilson referred to the case in talking with the White House correspondents. He indicated that the question was more one of public policy than academic law, but gave no indication of what the outcome might be.

Secretary Wilson of the Department of Labor went into conference with President Wilson immediately after the close of the hearing in Commissioner Caminetti's office. The decision was made at the end of the conference.

According to the official report of the militant organization, "15 American women also went to the cathedral to demonstrate their sympathy with their English sisters and to protest against the action of the authorities at New York preventing Mrs. Pankhurst from landing."

The report also says that the women were ejected with great violence by the vergers.

Indiana Suffragettes Denounce Detention as Unconstitutional.
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 20.—If Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst is returned to France, the Woman's Franchise League of this city will adopt resolutions condemning the Government's action as unconstitutional, according to Mrs. Francis Hanks, suffragette and club woman.

She declared the order of deportation was a disgrace to the country.

"You can talk until doomsday about things theoretical doing little good. But suffering and sacrifice for a cause or an ideal is worth more than words can accomplish. In our earlier days we would usually convert about 24 persons in the front row, but when we did something unusual crowds came to see and hear us. They saw that we were just ordinary women."

Deadly Not Words, Her Motto.
"I can say that I have made many suffragettes in the United States. They joined us because a deafened deaf speaks louder than a thousand volumes. Deadly, not words, is my motto."

"It was the law in England that a woman was not allowed the custody of her own children until a woman was driven mad and killed her children. In England a man may bring his mistress into the house where his wife and children are, and the law does not hinder him when decency fails."

"Before the royal commission can adjudge the divorce laws we must have equality between men and women."

"The white slave traffic is dreadful in England, and very great offenses against women are treated lightly by the courts. Many a suffragette is sent to prison for long periods, while lighter sentences are imposed upon men guilty of the most atrocious crimes."

"Under some of the long-standing statutes a man may beat his wife."

"The women working in factories in England are so numerous and the pay so small that the temptations are many, and their lives are held at a discount."

"Men Not Opposed to Us."
"English men, as men are not opposed to our having the ballot; it is a question of moving the Government. Words will not move it."

"The British Government will do what it thinks fit with me. I am not a felon and I will not a minute submit to being called a felon."

"Why did you assume responsibility for placing a bomb in what was supposed to be a house belonging to Lloyd-George?"

"Because," she replied, "I believe that the people who urge people to such measures should take the responsibility for their acts. Human life with us is sacred and higher than all else. We women run the risk of bringing human life into the world and we value human life more than anything else in the world."

Her blue eyes twinkled as she said: "The enemy thought they would finish me this spring. They in England do not want me to tell my story to American audiences."

Thirst Strikes Now Added.
"Not one woman has failed in a food strike and it would be impossible for a woman like me to fail. Two men have also gone through it. One was sentenced to three months, while I was sentenced to three years' penal servitude, and he would willingly go through it again."

"Miss Emerson, the American, was 12 days without food. We very soon became very weak from loss of food. We have thirst strikes now, and that is quicker. They release us when it is not safe to keep us any longer."

Mrs. Pankhurst was much cheered by letters and telegrams and news of protests against her detention.

St. Louis Equal Suffrage Leaders Discuss Pankhurst Case.
Before it was announced that Mrs. Pankhurst would be admitted to the United States, prominent workers in the cause of equal suffrage in St. Louis discussed the case.

pressed the opinion that she should not be deported.

One interview was rather startling in view of the fact that it is a favorite argument of the anti-suffragists that a woman's place is in the home. Mrs. E. M. Grossman, who has been an active worker in the cause of equal suffrage for an opinion as to whether Mrs. Pankhurst should be excluded.

"I have just finished bathing one of my babies, and am now going to bathe the other," said Mrs. Grossman. "So you see I have no time to talk of the Pankhurst controversy."

Mrs. David N. O'Neil, a prominent member of the Equal Suffrage League, said: "There is no precedent for the deportation of Mrs. Pankhurst, so far as I am informed. On the contrary, there have been innumerable cases of the admission of similar political offenders, some of whom came as exponents of a cause and many of whom were admitted to citizenship later, and all of whom were men."

"Any discrimination against Mrs. Pankhurst, who is an avowed champion of woman suffrage and who has devoted her life to that cause, would strengthen the conviction of all thinking people that women are justified in their assertion that they are denied legal as well as political equality with men."

Mrs. Edith Barringer, vice-president of the Equal Suffrage League said: "Mrs. Pankhurst should be admitted. This country, from the start, has been a refuge for the political exiles of all nations, and it would be contrary to the traditions of this nation to exclude Mrs. Pankhurst."

Suffragettes Ejected From Church for Praying for Companions.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Suffragettes again interrupted the services at St. Paul's and also at St. Luke's, Kensington, where the Bishop of London was preaching, by reciting a prayer for "Mary Richardson and Annie Kenny, who are being forcibly fed."

After the women were ejected from St. Paul's they attempted to hold a meeting on the steps of the cathedral, but the police interfered. A scene ensued and the two women were arrested charged with assaulting the police.

According to the official report of the militant organization, "15 American women also went to the cathedral to demonstrate their sympathy with their English sisters and to protest against the action of the authorities at New York preventing Mrs. Pankhurst from landing."

The report also says that the women were ejected with great violence by the vergers.

Indiana Suffragettes Denounce Detention as Unconstitutional.
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 20.—If Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst is returned to France, the Woman's Franchise League of this city will adopt resolutions condemning the Government's action as unconstitutional, according to Mrs. Francis Hanks, suffragette and club woman.

She declared the order of deportation was a disgrace to the country.

CHILD SAYS MAN CUT OFF HER PRETTY CURLS

Martin H. Green, Her Father, Offers $35 for Arrest and Conviction of Snipper.

Three-year-old Elizabeth Green, when riding on a bicycle, Saturday afternoon, in front of her home, 4234 Evans avenue, in some manner lost five of the seven light-hued curls of which her parents were proud.

When her father, Martin H. Green, asked her what had become of the curls, she replied that a big man with a pair of scissors had snipped them off. Other children in the neighborhood seemed to know nothing about the occurrence.

The parents have advertised that they will pay $35 for the arrest and conviction of the person who took the curls.

ST. LOUIS MAN TELLS OF RESULTS FROM TEST

Mr. James Beaver Says He Tested Plant Juice Personally, With Fine Results.

Mr. James E. Beaver, who resides at 402 North Eleventh street, this city, and who is employed as bookkeeper at the Century Electric Co., said he is well pleased with the results from the use of Plant Juice. Mr. Beaver has lived in St. Louis 10 years and has many friends here who will be interested in his statement.

He says: "I have been using Plant Juice for stomach trouble and nervousness and the results have been all that I could ask for. I have only taken one bottle, but the improvement in my condition is so great that I am going to continue the treatment. I can certainly endorse Plant Juice as being all right."

Those who lead sedentary lives and whose business requires them to stay indoors, frequently need a good tonic and builder to assist nature. There is nothing to equal Plant Juice as a vitalizer, invigorator and general system builder. It tones up the nervous system, relieves indigestion from almost the first dose, purifies the stomach into healthy condition, cleanses the liver and stimulates it into action, corrects constipation and regulates the bowels. It clears the blood of all poisons and eradicates all malaria from the system. In fact Plant Juice will do you more good than a vacation and make you feel like a different person. If you suffer from any ailment of the stomach, liver, kidneys or blood, get a bottle of Plant Juice from the man at Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. store and if it does not help you he will return your money.—ADV.

SPECTACLES FIRM GOES TO TRIAL FOR MAIL FRAUD

Harry and Morris Goldman Charged With Swindle in Misleading Advertisements.

The trial of Harry and Morris Goldman on a charge of using the mails to defraud by means of a spectacles swindle began before a jury in the United States District Court Monday. The men are the managers of "The Dr. Haux Spectacle Co.," 221 Locust street. The Government avers that "Dr. Haux" is a mythical person.

In his opening statement to the jury, District Attorney Houts said the Government would try to prove that the defendants advertised in weekly newspapers to send to readers a pair of spectacles in return for a coupon marked "Good for $4," which was part of the advertisement.

"The Government will try to show," said Houts, "that they never did intend to send the spectacles in exchange for the coupon, but that when one was sent in they would open a correspondence with the sender, assuring him his letter showed he was badly in need of glasses and offering to send him a pair for $1."

Sold 200,000 Pairs a Year. "It was explained that the company lost a great deal on selling the spectacles at this sum, whereas we shall try to show that in fact they made money. We shall show that they sold 200,000 pairs a year and that these were sold to them by the manufacturers at $2.75 a dozen or about 23 cents each."

The District Attorney read from one of the advertisements as he addressed the jury. It had a picture of a man with a gun and said that with Dr. Haux's glasses one "can shoot the smallest bird in the tallest tree on a hazy morning." Houts declared he would try to show the spectacles were of very simple make, of plain glass and were such as no reputable oculist would sell.

He also read from an advertisement which described the frames in the words "Ten Karat Gold," printed in large letters, followed by the word "filled" in tiny letters.

Houts said the Government had been unable to find any Dr. Haux and believed the name was used to beguile the unsuspecting into a belief the glasses were made under the direction of an expert.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can talk freely of her illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out into the possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have drawn from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

RUB IT ON YOUR SORE, ACHING BACK

Rub Lumbago, Pain, Soreness, and Stiffness away with St. Jacobs Oil.

Kidneys cause Backache? No! They have no nerve, therefore can not cause pain. Listen! Your back ache is caused by lumbago, sciatica or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Rub it right on the ache or tender spot, and instantly the pain, soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil" from your druggist and limber up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache, sciatica or lumbago pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

It's the only application to rub on a weak, lame or painful back, or for lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, sprains or a strain.—ADV.

Mrs. John D. Rockefeller's Illness Alarms Family

MRS. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

Reported to Have Become Deaf and Cannot Now Be Taken to New York Home.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 20.—Although the true nature of the illness of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, wife of the Standard Oil magnate, is concealed by the family and her physicians, the condition of her health is so alarming that Rockefeller has abandoned his plan to return to his New York residence for the winter. It is feared Mrs. Rockefeller could not stand the trip to New York.

While friends of the Rockefeller family profess to be in ignorance as to the nature of her illness, it is said that among the complications Mrs. Rockefeller has become deaf.

One hundred and seventy-nine soldiers were on the special train. They were from Fort Morgan and Fort Bananas and were on their way to Maryland to participate in the Mississippi-Alabama State Fair.

The men had gone to Mobile early Sunday and at noon left Mobile.

The three cars were well filled and when the cars were plunged through the trestle the men had little chance to escape. The dead and injured were entangled in a twisted mass of wreckage, making it difficult to remove bodies or rescue injured.

WILSON PREDICTS PASSAGE OF MONEY BILL IN NOVEMBER

President Writes Underwood That Measure Will Be Reported to Senate in 3 Weeks.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President Wilson wrote Representative Underwood, the majority leader of the House, today, expressing the opinion that the currency bill would be reported to the Senate not later than the first week in November and passed after two or three weeks' debate.

"I have had conferences with members of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, both Democrats and Republicans," wrote the President. "As a result of those conferences, I feel confident that a report on the bill will be expected not later than the first week of November."

"Most members of the committee with whom I have conferred, have shown themselves keenly aware of the disadvantage to the country of any unnecessary delay. I believe that the action of the Senate upon the bill will follow within two or at the most three weeks after the report is made."

"I don't believe there will be any attempt to delay its passage by dilatory tactics. Senators on both sides realize that the business of the country awaits this legislation, impatient of being kept in suspense, and display a most public spirited desire to dispose of it promptly. The passage of the bill is assured."

"In these circumstances I should like to confer with you as you so kindly suggested, as to the action the House should take while awaiting the results."

The President does not believe an adjournment is possible, but thinks some agreement might be reached with the minority in the House for a brief recess. The President is fully confident of considerable nonpartisan support for the bill and told callers today he did not expect any change affecting any fundamental part of the bill, but rather had found an unexpected agreement on the fundamentals.

The President's letter was freely circulated in Congress and renewed active discussion of recess prospects. Senator Weeks, Republican, of the Banking Committee observed that the letter "disclosed more optimism than the facts warranted."

22 SOLDIERS DEAD, 74 BADLY HURT, IN MISSISSIPPI WRECK

Troop Train Goes Through Trestle on M. & O. When Tender Breaks Loose.

By Associated Press. MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 20.—Victims of yesterday's troop train wreck on the Mobile & Ohio Railroad at Duckatunne, Miss., were brought to Mobile early today on relief trains. The number of known dead is 22, most of whom were members of the One Hundred and Seventieth Coast Artillery. There were 74 seriously injured soldiers in Mobile hospitals, while a number of the less seriously hurt were taken to the Government hospital at Fort Morgan.

Physicians who arrived on the relief train said they feared at least 15 among the seriously injured could not survive. Investigation of the cause of the wreck continued today. It was believed to have resulted from the derailing of the locomotive tender which dragged the baggage car and three coaches off the track, and over a 25-foot trestle.

Additions to the list of dead included the initials of four unidentified men. These were "V. A. S.," "W. C. A.," "W. C. S." and "V. W. C." Additions to the list of seriously wounded officers included Capt. B. Taylor of the Thirty-ninth.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR—A CLEAN, COOL SCALP

Try Parisian Sage. It Makes the Hair Soft, Wavy, Abundant—Cleanses and Invigorates the Scalp.

If your hair is anything short of perfect; if it is too dry, brittle, dull, thin, or if the scalp itches, immediately begin the use of Parisian Sage. The first application removes dandruff, cools and invigorates the scalp and increases the beauty of the hair.

Parisian Sage, a scientific preparation, supplies hair needs. It is a tea-colored liquid containing the exact elements needed to make the hair soft, wavy and glossy, and to make it grow—it is delicately perfumed—non-sticky or greasy—that comes in a fifty cent bottle at the druggists and toilet counters.

Apply Parisian Sage and the effect is immediate. One application stops the head from itching and freshens up the hair. Use it daily for a week and you will be surprised and delighted. Parisian Sage is one of the quickest acting hair tonics known.

ENGINEER SAVES MANY BY TAKING BRUNT OF WRECK

Burlington Trainman Backs Cars and Lets Engine Receive Shock.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 20.—Investigation by the division officers of the Burlington wreck at Nelson, Wis., Saturday, in which one man was killed and 15 injured, shows that M. H. Dorsey, engineer of train 54, undoubtedly saved the lives of many of his passengers by prompt action in face of impending collision. No. 54 was partly on a siding when the express train No. 57 appeared. Dorsey quickly reversed his engine, backed onto the main track with the engine and baggage car, which had been clear, and took upon his locomotive the shock of the collision with the express train, running 40 miles an hour. All the injured were improving today.

Dorsey jumped just before the crash and escaped with a sprained ankle.

TOE REPLACES FINGER
PARIS, Oct. 20.—A remarkable piece of surgery is reported in the Journal, which tells of a violinist who had lost the use of the little finger of his left hand and was unable to practice his profession for some time. At Kiel Hospital Prof. Goettl discovered that the point was diseased and removed it, putting in its place the corresponding joint taken from the little toe of the patient's left foot. The violinist is now able to play as well as ever, says the Journal.

SOUTHERN LINE WILLING TO REDUCE LOOP FRANCHISE

General Manager Mephram Says 25-Year Term, Instead of 50 Years Would Be Satisfactory.

Hampden D. Mephram Jr., general manager of the Southern Traction Co. of Illinois, said to a reporter Monday upon his return from New York, that he is accepting the Hines bill in the Council, reducing the life of the Free Bridge loop franchise from 50 to 25 years, and giving to the city the option of purchasing the tracks after 10 years.

"I have not read the bill," explained Mephram, "but I will be glad to recommend the acceptance of those terms to the stockholders, and the English syndicate which contracted to purchase our bonds and mortgage covering all our property in Illinois and Missouri, including our franchise rights. I am agreeable to the proposal that the city may purchase, on behalf of the English bond syndicate, the Southern Traction Co. shall have the right to use the loop when purchased, on equal terms with any other road that is permitted to use it."

To Favor Any Completion Plan.
Mephram declared that his company will make no objection to any plan adopted by the city for the completion of the highway or railway approaches in Illinois, both of which he expects to use in operation.

"We have just completed the first section of our road, between East St. Louis and Belleville," said Mephram, "and next week, an engineer representing Sir Douglas Fox and partners, London, will inspect the work and accept it, if approved, on behalf of the English bond syndicate. We will begin operating freight trains with steam locomotives on Nov. 1, on this section of the road, and by Jan. 1 we will begin to operate electric passenger trains."

"We can complete the loop tracks in St. Louis within 90 days of the time we are notified to begin work, and can be ready to operate passenger and express cars into St. Louis over the highway deck of the bridge, long before it is completed."

"Our franchise today gives us permission to use only the highway deck, but we intend to ask permission, at the proper time, to use the railway deck for steam engines, and haul coal and other heavy freight by that means. On Nov. 1 we will have in operation no track beyond Belleville, but we will rapidly extend our line, first to Smithton, seven miles south of Belleville, then to Mascoutah, 10 miles east of Belleville, and then to Marissa, about 40 miles from St. Louis. We tap four coal mines between Belleville and East St. Louis, and will serve a tremendous mining district when we extend to Marissa and beyond."

Clearing Bond Situation.
Mephram's statement of the company's attitude today makes a change in the situation which has existed since the passage of bond issues by voters for the completion jointly of the Reber railway approach and the highway approach in Illinois for the use of the Southern Traction Co. The antagonism expressed for the Schaefer Traction project, holding a 50-year franchise to downtown streets, and without a proviso for purchase of the tracks by the city, resulted in delaying the completion of the railway approach, because both were bound up in the same bond issue proposal.

"Our franchise provides that we must transport passengers from any point on our line in St. Louis to any point on our line in East St. Louis for 5 cents," said Mephram, "and we shall charge the same for both East St. Louis and St. Louis from every point on our lines in Illinois."

"The operation of our line is bound to benefit St. Louis immensely, and I think the public has been so engrossed in the controversy over the manner in which the bridge should be completed that it has not stopped to consider how much the delay in completing the structure is costing the city."

The Alton & Mississippi Railway officials announced recently that they were prepared to undertake the construction of the highway approach as well as the Alton & Mississippi Railroad approach in Illinois, under their leasing plan by which the city would own the approaches after paying annual rentals for 20 years or more. The A. & M. plans, according to Leo Scherer, promoter, would be to construct both approaches at the same time, finishing the highway approach shortly before the longer railway approach.

City Would Pay $7,000,000 for the A. & M. Approach.
Mayor Kiel announced Monday morning that the Alton & Mississippi proposal for the completion of the East Side free bridge approach would be taken up the joint Conference Committee, in definite form, at a meeting in his office during the afternoon.

He said the proposal to be considered was for work to be done by the A. & M., which would cost $4,000,000, or $1,500,000 more than it would cost the city to build the Reber-retailers' approach by a bond issue.

would make the total cost to the city $7,000,000.

Of the $250,000 to be received annually by the company, he said, it proposes to figure $100,000 as interest and $150,000 as sinking fund to retire its bonds. There would be no bond issue by the city, the annual payments being made from current revenue.

The Mayor said he figured that, under such an arrangement, the city would be paying somewhat more than 7 per cent on the cost of the work. Whether the city could do better, he said, would be determined after considering the question from all sides. He said Comptroller Player would present a table of comparative cost to the city under different plans.

AUTOIST HITS MAN, FLEES
Victim Saves Wife by Pushing Her Out of Car's Path.
Lewis Jochin, 28 years old, of 3140 Missouri avenue, was knocked down Sunday morning at Jefferson and Ann avenues by a speeding automobile and his right leg was broken. The machine, a black touring car, did not stop.

Jochin and his wife were crossing the street. Jochin pushed his wife out of the car's path before the machine struck him. He was unable to give the police the license number of the auto or a description of the occupants.

FEARS WIFE WILL KILL HIM, FLEES; SHE DIES BY GAS
Husband Takes Refuge in Mother's Home; Finds Body on His Return.
Rudolph Schaefer of 3831 North Twenty-third street found his wife, Grace, 33 years old, dead in the kitchen of their home with the burners of a gas range turned on at 6:15 a. m. Monday.

Schaefer told the police that he had fled from the house at midnight and had gone to the home of his mother, Mrs. Lottie Bartels, at 3833 North Twenty-third street, because his wife had threatened to kill him and herself. He said she frequently had threatened to take her life because of an ailment which she considered incurable.

The Schaefers went to a christening party Sunday night, but Mrs. Schaefer became ill and her husband took her home.

STOMACH BAD? BELCHING GAS AND SOUR FOOD?—TAKE PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN.
If you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you need Pape's Diapepsin to stop food fermentation and indigestion.

It neutralizes excessive acid, stomach poison; absorbs that misery-making gas and stops fermentation which sours your entire blood and causes Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bloating, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer in five minutes that fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that relief is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.—ADV.

FIREMAN FALLS 15 FEET
Loses His Grasp on Pole in Engine House.
John Kennedy, 32 years old, a member of Fire Company 14, 1437 Market street, responding to an alarm of fire at 20:21 p. m. Sunday, lost his hold as he was sliding down one of the poles in the engine house and fell 15 feet. Both ankles were sprained.

He was taken to the city dispensary for treatment and then sent to his home, 1437 Morgan street.

MANIFESTOES CALL FOR VENGEANCE ON JEWS

Bitterness Arises From Kiev Murder Trial—Boy's Body Seen in Thief's House.

KIEV, Oct. 20.—Telegrams from Minsk and other towns report anti-Semitic activity and the distribution of manifestoes calling upon the populace "to avenge on the Jews the murder of Yushinsky."

The trial of Mendel Beilis, who is charged with having murdered the boy, went on Sunday. An old neighbor of the Tebeberia, named Wislimirsky, testified that about two months after the murder the wife of his friend Ravitch told him that she had seen Yushinsky's body in a bath in the Tebeberia house. Ravitch and his wife have emigrated since to the United States. Their passage, Ravitch told Wislimirsky, having been paid by Vera Tebeberia, the reputed head of a band of thieves. This made little impression, because Wislimirsky had not mentioned it when examined by a magistrate.

SNOW AND ICE IN MISSOURI WITH MERCURY AT 27

Freezing Temperature Extends Kansas and Northern Oklahoma and Texas Has Frost.

Wintry Weather Over the Country Early in Week
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—WINTRY weather is predicted for the next few days in the greater part of the country east of the Rocky Mountains. "It is probable," says the weekly bulletin, "that general frosts will occur the first half of the week in Great Central Valleys, the Eastern states, and the interior of the South. Normal temperatures will prevail during the week on the Pacific Slope. There will be rains Monday in the Eastern states, the Upper Ohio Valley and the region of the great lakes; otherwise the weather during the next several days will be generally fair east of the Rocky Mountains. The next disturbance of importance to cross the country will appear in the Northwest Tuesday or Wednesday, move Eastward, and cross the great Central Valleys Thursday or Friday, and the Eastern states near the end of the week, this disturbance will be preceded by a general change to higher temperature, be attended by rains in the North Pacific States and the Southern and Middle States east of the Rocky Mountains, and rains and snows along the northern border; it will be followed by colder weather which will appear in the Northwest about Thursday.

By Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20.—Freezing temperatures, the first of the season, prevailed over Missouri, Kansas and Northern Oklahoma early today and a light frost extended into Northern Texas. Ice formed all over Western Missouri. Snow fell in Eastern Missouri. The thermometer stood at 27 degrees above zero for nearly an hour in Kansas City, St. Joseph, Springfield and Sedalia, Mo. The lowest temperature reported from the three states to the local office of the United States Weather Bureau was 24, at Concordia, Kan. Other temperatures reported included: Dodge City, Kan., 20; Wichita, Kan., 20; Oklahoma City, Okla., 24; Dallas, Tex., 38.

Snow Extends as Far South as Alabama and Georgia.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20.—Winter appeared in many sections of the Middle South today, snowfall being reported from points as far north as Hopkinsville, Ky., and south as far as Birmingham, Ala., and Atlanta. This was the earliest snowfall on record in Nashville.

First Snow of Season in Missouri and Kansas.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20.—Snow, the first of the season, fell for 30 minutes Sunday over Western Missouri and Eastern Kansas, coming after a cold wind from the north that brought rain and sleet early in the day. Thermometers in this section stood at 4 to 8 degrees above the freezing point. Southern Kansas and Northern Oklahoma report a fall in the temperature of nearly 40 degrees in 24 hours.

First Snow at La Crosse, Mercury 25 Above Zero.
LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 20.—The first snow of the season fell today. It was accompanied by a sudden drop in temperature, which took thermometers down to 25 degrees above zero.

BANK IN LOWELL CLOSED; RECEIVER APPOINTED

Had Been Told to Restore Impaired Capital, but Failed to Do So.

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 20.—The Traders National Bank of this city was closed today by order of the Comptroller of the Currency.

Bank Had Been Notified to Make Up Impaired Capital.
The Traders National Bank of Lowell was closed on a report from National Bank Examiner Norwin S. Bean that the institution is insolvent. Harry G. Murray has been appointed receiver.

A close relationship existed between the Traders and the Atlantic National Bank of Providence, R. I., which was closed April 14. Three months ago the capital of the Traders was shown to be badly impaired, and a formal notice of impairment was served on its directors. This directed them to make good the impairment by the assessment of the stockholders, or to place the bank in voluntarily liquidation. Under the law, the bank had three months in which to do either of these things. The three months expired Oct. 17, and the bank examiner reported that the capital had not been restored, and that the bank was insolvent.

EFFORT MADE TO BLOCK PEPER REALTY AUCTION

Two of Heirs Allege Market in St. Louis Now Is Unusually Slow.

An effort to block an auction of Peper real estate on the ground that the present market in St. Louis is unusually slow, was made, Monday, in an argument in Judge Taylor's court. Nicholas M. Bell and Mrs. Caroline Peper, heirs of the late Christian Peper, are trying to prevent the sale which the other heirs had advertised for Oct. 30.

The property principally involved is at Twelfth and Market streets and has been appraised at $348,000. Charles Cummings Collins was appointed special commissioner to sell it under the terms of a partition suit. John S. Blake, Theodore Hommelmaier, Jr., Gustave W. Niemann and Henry L. Cornet, real estate dealers, testified that market conditions were bad now. Judge Taylor continued the case until Tuesday to give the other side an opportunity to summon experts.

CHIEF YOUNG ORDERS "CLEAN UP" OF GUNMEN

Six Persons Already Arrested—
Search to Be Made in All Poolrooms and Saloons.

Chief of Police Young has ordered a "clean up" of gunmen in St. Louis. The order has gone forth to captains in every district and a "gun squad" arrested three men and a woman at Fourth and Valentine streets Sunday night. The four were armed with concealed weapons. A detective sergeant saw Theodore Wall pass a revolver to his wife, Mrs. Mannie Wall. After a struggle Mrs. Wall surrendered the revolver. She was charged with disturbing the peace and resisting arrest, and her husband was charged with carrying concealed weapons.

The squad also arrested in the same vicinity, Thomas Ewing, 233 Scott avenue, who was carrying a large pocket knife, and Joseph Bednarek, 1411 North Seventh street, on whom a revolver was found. The concealed weapon search will be extended to every poolroom, saloon and street corner where loafers congregate.

ENGLAND TO HEAR U. S. DISLIKES ITS POLICY IN MEXICO

Presentation of Minister's Credentials, Day Huerta Became Dictator, Disapproved.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Walter H. Page, the United States Ambassador, this afternoon discussed the situation in Mexico with the officials of the British Foreign Office.

The view of the British Government is that the policy of Sir Lionel Carden, the British Minister to Mexico, is not antagonistic to the point of view of the United States, and it is pointed out as merely a coincidence that Sir Lionel Carden presented his credentials simultaneously with provisional President Huerta's declaration of a dictatorship. The fact that Great Britain had recognized provisional President Huerta rendered it necessary, it is argued here, that the British Minister should present his letters without delay and so obtain official standing.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Ambassador Page's inquiries today at the British Foreign Office were made to ascertain the attitude of the British Government in the Mexican situation. The United States had been led to believe that moral support for its policy would be given by Great Britain, but great disappointment was felt when the day after Gen. Huerta announced himself as dictator and nullified constitutional restrictions, Sir Lionel Carden presented his credentials to Huerta.

This was looked upon with disfavor by the administration, and it has been reported that Sir Lionel Carden has been otherwise active to thwart the policy of the United States. It is thought that Ambassador Page will make clear to the British Foreign Office the displeasure of the United States at such activities.

33 NUNS FLEE MEXICAN CONVENT

Left Property Worth $75,000
Behind and Escaped to Texas Border.

By Associated Press. GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 20.—Three hundred and sixty-one refugees from Mexico, most of them destitute, and a number of them victims of the long siege and subsequent capture of Torreón by the Constitutionalists, have reached Galveston by steamer from Tampico. They told stories of guerrilla warfare between the Mexican factions, of robbery and cruelty. Thirty-three Catholic nuns, who were among the refugees, told of being driven at midnight under fire from their convent, of hospitals put to the torch and men killed for the gold in their teeth.

Mother Mary Vincent of the Order of Incarnate Word was in charge of the party of nuns, who left property valued at $75,000 gold. Their convent is near Torreón at Gomez Palacios, which was taken by the Constitutionalists July 22 as a base for their siege of the larger city.

Nuns Flee From Convent. The nuns fled from the convent when the fighting threatened its destruction and were sheltered at the British Consulate for seven weeks.

"The warring factions apparently have no mercy for each other," said Mother Vincent. "At Gomez Palacios we witnessed many scenes of bloodshed and crime. Hospitals filled with sick and wounded were put to the torch and men were killed for the gold in their teeth. Our party was fired upon as we fled from our academy to the British consulate. We witnessed many indignities to church property and even graves of departed Bishops and rich personages were being despoiled."

Aided by U. S. Government. The refugees came in three boats, the steamers Texas and Waneta, and the oil barge Hainaut. The Texas carried 22 men, women and children, in charge of Dr. Edward Ryan, a special agent for the American Red Cross.

Of the number arriving, about 200 were destitute and received aid from the United States Government. They were given tickets to points where they have friends and relatives, and furnished money for immediate use. The greater number of the refugees were Americans.

PRESIDENCY TO HIGHEST BIDDER

Special to the Post-Dispatch. LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 20.—Advices received here by agents of the Constitutionalists, and made public today through a leak in the transmission of dispatches to New York and Washington, indicate something more than a mere mad outbreak on the part of Huerta, in his imprisonment of the Deputies and declaration of his dictatorship.

It is stated that the threatened disclosure of a plot to sell the presidential election to the highest bidder among the foreign financial interests precipitated Huerta's action, and that he caused the imprisonment of the Deputies to prevent them from blocking his plans.

The story, as it reached here, is that Rodolfo Reyes, ex-Minister of Justice, was made aware of the plot to sell the presidency, by confidential agents of Huerta, who thought to induce him, for Diaz and the French interests, to bid against the others. He humored the idea and had an interview on the subject with Huerta.

Eczema Is Only Skin Deep

Proven by D. D. D.

A few skin troubles originate in the blood. But very few. Dr. Evans, Examiner of Medical Subjects, says: "We shall begin to make headway with skin disease when we learn two things: first that skin disease does not come from impure blood; second, that so-called blood purifiers have no such action."

Get busy, then, and clear up your skin. Stop that itching and burning. Drive out those pimples. Make up your mind to start now and give yourself a smooth, velvet complexion. You can do it with the aid of the wonderful D. D. D. Prescription—a cooling, refreshing lotion—no salve or grease—it soothes your tender skin, opens the pores, drives out the old impurities and gives you a skin like a baby's smooth and clear.

All druggists have D. D. D. We sell it on a positive no-pay guarantee. You don't risk a cent. Don't suffer another day. Call at our store today. Ask also about D. D. D. Soap—best for tender skin.

Relief From Constipation

It's Me for Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No griping is the "bygone" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 50c and 75c per box. The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, O.

Years Added to Life

Success may be spelled in dollars and cents, but the physical ability to accomplish something worth while keeps the enthusiastic worker at his or her task when dollars no longer offer an incentive. As age advances, we find ourselves unable to do some of the things we did formerly, and the realization that we are growing old suddenly dawns upon us. But, everyone has the opportunity to forestall the ravages of advancing age, if he will. Moreover, there are many degenerative maladies affecting the vital organs that are inaugurated by, or dependent upon, disturbances of the blood supply. The diseases affecting the heart, blood vessels, kidneys and other vital organs are on the increase among people of advancing years. In this age of preventive medicine, it fortunately happens that these maladies can be avoided if taken in time. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey gives to the aged the power to sustain strength and energy. When taken at mealtimes it stimulates the mucous surfaces and "little glands of the stomach" to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the body its full proportion of nourishment. Thousands of people in all walks of life have enthusiastically testified they owe their long life to the wonderful restorative and sustaining powers of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It is a remedy you should not fail to try. Get it today. At most druggists, grocers and dealers, $1.00 a large bottle.

RESINOL CURED AWFUL ITCHING IN ONE NIGHT

Had Suffered Six or Seven Months

"The skin on my hand got red and rough. It itched and I began to scratch it. It itched so that sometimes I could not sleep all night. I was suffering very much. I used — salve and — but they did not seem to help me. This went on for six or seven months. Then I tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. I used them one night. In the morning, to my surprise, my hand was all well and the trouble has never returned. This is the absolute truth." (Signed) Miss Celia Kleinman, 61 Columbia St., New York, April 26, 1913. What others, such as Miss Kleinman, say of it. It does its work quickly, easily and at little cost. If you are suffering from itching, burning skin troubles, pimples, blackheads, dandruff, ulcers, boils, stubborn sores or piles, it cures you nothing to try Resinol Ointment and Soap. Send to Dept. 18-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for a free sample. Sold by all druggists.

PRESIDENT BADLY ADVISED BY BRYAN, H. L. WILSON SAYS

Ousted Ambassador to Mexico Letter Says Secretary Acted With Partisan Zeal.

RESENTS BEING DISMISSED

Asserts Mexican Policy of U. S. Shows State Department's Hazardous Adventure.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 20.—Henry Lane Wilson's official connection with the United States Government ended Oct. 14, at which time his leave of absence expired and his salary ceased. The former Ambassador to Mexico has made public the letter to Secretary of State Bryan, which accompanied his resignation.

The letter was written in Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 23. In part Mr. Wilson wrote: "I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of Aug. 14, transmitting a copy of telegraphic instructions of the Department of State to the American Ambassador in London, directing him to disclaim all responsibility on the part of this Government for an interview attributed to me. The closing paragraph of the instructions referred to states that 'the President regrets exceedingly that a diplomatic official of this Government should have been guilty of such an impropriety.' The last paragraph of your note to me states that 'the President does not go farther at this time because he takes it for granted that the action, which he has been obliged to take in this matter, will be to you a sufficient reminder of your official obligations.'"

Limit to Patience, He Says.
Wilson calls attention to a memorandum of his, dated Aug. 14, agreeing to refrain from public comment on the instruction to the Ambassador in London, or the note to himself, and adds that he "must respectfully decline to accept as definitive or just the action of the President or the Department over which you preside" in this matter. "There is," he writes, "a just limit to patient silence, and I shall not permit myself to be made the victim of a hasty and unmerited rebuke, without placing on record with you my earnest and solemn protest."

Wilson then reviews the circumstances leading up to the instruction to the Ambassador in London. A London dispatch was published in this country on Aug. 11 stating that one of the factors determining British recognition of the Mexican provisional government was the "congratulatory speech of the American Ambassador on the occasion of Huerta's reception to the diplomatic corps." Wilson says he did not believe this came from an official British source, and had decided to maintain an attitude of reserve, until on the next two days, he read in the press articles "evidently inspired from administration sources containing expressions of gratification over the supposed proprietary legislation" of the British Government.

"It seemed apparent to me that this was the first evidence of your intention to publicly question my official acts," he continues, "and I accordingly gave to the press the interview referred to."

Accuses Bryan of Partisan Zeal.
The interview, he declared, could not possibly be construed as an expression of the views of this Government, as Mr. Bryan already had announced Mr. Wilson's voluntary resignation. He continues:

"Thereupon, with tempestuous haste, and apparently prompted by partisan zeal, you dispatched an instruction to the American Ambassador in London directing him to apologize for language uttered by me, which was not in the least degree offensive and which was based entirely upon the assumption that the supposed expression of the British Government was a malicious fabrication."

"You thus hastily proceeded without ascertaining whether either the supposed expressions by the British Government or my comment thereon were veritable, and as has since been developed, your action caused the greatest possible surprise to the Government of Great Britain which did not know it had been offended and had no official knowledge of the views attributed to it."

"Thus through pique you have spontaneously and unjustly discredited a diplomatic official of this Government and at the same time have exposed to the British Foreign Office the spirit of hazardous adventure, which presides over the Department of State, and the possibility of errors at any moment in future diplomatic exchanges."

President Badly Advised.
"That the President of the United States, whom I know to possess high and patriotic ideals and whose lofty purpose ought never to be questioned by any American citizen, should lend himself to the hasty criticism of an old and tried official of the Government upon totally unwarranted and since discredited source of information convinced me that he has been badly advised; and that you, Mr. Secretary, who have been identified with the movement for higher and better things in this country, should, except as the result of investigation and calm consideration, find reason for the censure of a plain and truthful statement of fact, which has to do solely with matters that are of record in the Department of State and probably in the records of all foreign offices with representatives accredited to Mexico by assuming an attitude which involves the correctness of the official procedure of a diplomatic officer under your control, inspires me with serious doubts as to your future success in dealing with delicate international affairs."

Wilson next reviews his 17 years of diplomatic service, saying that an investigation of his work will show that "it was in the highest degree useful in humanitarian, commercial and political ways," and that the records of the State Department bear ample evidence to the general satisfaction which his efforts won. He refers the same satisfaction to Russia, Austria and Turkey, he says, because of lack of finances, and went to Mexico apprehending that he had a hard task before him.

Never Mixed in Politics in Mexico.
"I gave my whole time and my health," he adds, "and denied myself the privilege, which all men consider sacred, of performing the last offices at the bedside of my beloved mother and my only brother." Wilson worked daily from a. m. to midnight or later and often on Sunday, he says, but "never mixed in the slightest degree in the politics of Mexico."

He maintained a policy of friendly cooperation with the Madero administration, he says, until "finding that no intention existed of righting American wrongs, I ceased to make representations to it except in urgent cases involving the loss of life or property. Yet I never gave expression to my lack of faith in the Government except to the State Department and never abated in the least my friendly relations with that Government."

"My relations with the provisional President were brought about by the stress of circumstances," he says, adding that his dealings with Huerta and Felix Diaz were solely to save human life and abate intolerable conditions in Mexico City. His course, he declares, vastly mitigated the horrors and sufferings of that horrible situation, and was indorsed by all diplomats, foreign colonies and religious organizations in Mexico."

"Recognition Policy Startling."
The assumptions that he was at that time intruding into the politics of Mexico, writes Wilson, "are at variance with the belief and testimony of all living eye-witnesses and against the record on file at the Department of State."

His formal resignation on March 4 was not accepted, but subsequently, he remarks, "public statements that the administration was investigating the situation through unofficial sources reflected with disagreeable frequency, affected my official usefulness." He asked Bryan for a denial, and, receiving none, "I again requested you to urge the acceptance of my resignation. In reply you clearly indicated your desire that I should remain at my post."

Physicians Agree on Internal Baths

The most enlightened physicians, including many of the greatest specialists, are recommending and prescribing the use of the J. B. L. Casade, Nature's own Cure for Constipation.

It keeps the lower intestines sweet and clean and eliminates all poisons in the waste which it contains. Otherwise these poisons are distributed throughout the body; this weakens the whole system, makes us dull and bilious, and even brings on serious complaints.

The "J. B. L. Casade" clears the colon of all waste, and is shown by Judge & Dolph Drug Co., 515 Olive, Seventh and Locust, St. Louis, Mo. "Look for the 'J. B. L. Casade' in only 50¢ per cent. bottles. ADV.

Meanwhile, he says, the attitude of the Mexican Government toward recognition became such that he wired for information regarding this country's policy. "After a long delay," he comments, "the established traditions and policy of this Government for 130 years, that I abandoned all further hope of bringing about a restoration of amicable relations."

He says that he was told that his return was to be for consultation, and that he left without time to adjust his personal affairs, at considerable expense to himself. He came to the conclusion that he was going to be removed from office, he says, because of Mr. Bryan's attitude toward him.

"I realized," he says, "that I had been called home, not for orders, consultation or instruction, but for sentence and humiliation." In conclusion, Mr. Wilson observes that he feels his removal "might at least have been kinder in spirit, more generous and more considerate."

The present policy toward Mexico, he declares, is "indifferent and drifting," and expresses the fear that it will develop greater hatred of Americans in Latin-America, and eventually may lead to intervention. In having spoken thus frankly, he said, he has been actuated by the public good, and the interest of justice, and not through bitterness or any desire to "embarrass the President's policy in Mexico."

Short Talks on Oriental Rugs

No. 4—The Royal Bidjar

These rugs are woven by Sarakh tribesmen, near Bidjar in the northern portion of the Persian district of Ardelan. They indicate the wild characteristics of the weavers. In texture they are heavy; in color, bright and rich. Just to feel a Bidjar Rug betrays its origin. The design frequently shows a bold floral medallion on a plain field of rich red, dark blue, or natural camel's hair surrounded irregularly by other floral designs—rich red, yellows, browns, and greens predominating in the design. In other cases the Senna and Feraghan Rug designs are copied, generally on bold lines. Bidjar Rugs are woven in sizes of from 3x5 to 5x8 feet, and, in the modern rugs, in carpet sizes.

In our large stock we show Bidjar Rugs of from 5.5x10.10 to 11.5x14.10 feet—the prices ranging from $125 to $550.

DEFECT FOUND IN WALLS

Dr. Nicolls Reviews Work of Congregation and Reads Names of Founders.

"Where has the echo gone?" asked members of the Second Presbyterian Church, Westminster place and Taylor avenue, after Sunday morning's service.

And echo did not even answer "Where?" as the poets have taught that echo does on such occasions. For the echo, which had for years annoyed and worried the Rev. Dr. S. J. Nicolls and the Second Presbyterian congregation, had indeed gone.

Instead of rumbling, reverberation and refraction of sound, such as have been experienced since the church was built, Dr. Nicolls' hearers had the new pleasure of receiving his clear, direct utterances just as they were spoken, and the position of pews made no difference in the ease with which the sermon was heard.

Church Among City's Finest.
The church is one of the largest and finest in St. Louis, and is of advanced architectural design, one notable feature being the invisibility of the lights. But since it was first occupied, a dozen years ago, there has been complaint of the acoustic properties.

Invisible wires and a sounding board were tried in the effort to keep the sound of the minister's voice from being lost in the dome or broken in the balcony. Last spring the building committee, of which J. Arthur Corbett is chairman, consulted a St. Louis roofing firm which maintains a department of architectural acoustics. Tests followed in which the defects were located and the remedy was provided by applying absorbent material to a part of the inner walls. This was done in connection with a general redecoration of the church interior, and the treatment has been such as to harmonize with the surrounding surfaces in appearance.

Church's Work Reviewed.
Similar work was recently done in Temple Israel, King's highway and Washington boulevard, by a Pittsburg expert. In both cases the ideas of Prof. W. C. Sabine of Harvard, who first proclaimed the science of architectural acoustics, were used.

At Sunday's service the Rev. Dr. Nicolls reviewed the church's 75 years of work, and read the names of the founders. Dr. Nicolls is the fourth pastor, and the present church edifice is the third, the former sites having been at Broadway and Walnut street and at Seventeenth and Locust streets.

INHERITS $150,000, GIVES IT ALL TO JESUIT ORDER

Priest's Fortune, in Accordance With Church Rules, Will Go for Education.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 20.—True to the Jesuit order, which does not allow one of its priests to own personal property or money, Father A. J. Bruno, former pastor of the Sacred Heart Church in Denver, before going to El Paso, Tex., to assume charge of a church there, turned over $150,000 which he had inherited by the death of a relative.

This fortune, which Father Bruno relinquished to the order to which he is a member, will be used for educational purposes under the direction of the order. The transfer of the fortune was made as soon as it came into the full possession of Father Bruno, and not one cent of the fortune was held by him.

BURGLARS' LOOT IS $1850

Rob Home of C. A. Roe, Boatmen's Bank Bookkeeper.

Burglars entered the home of C. A. Roe, 3137 Allen avenue, a bookkeeper at the Boatmen's Bank, Sunday night and stole money, silverware and jewelry valued by Roe at $1850. They entered through a rear window on which they broke the lock.

Roe and his family visited Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Roe's mother, Mrs. M. J. Nulsen, 3029 Longfellow boulevard. Roe returned home at 9 p. m., and as he walked up the front steps he saw a light flash inside of the house. He found the front door had been barred by a pile of chairs and furniture. He went in through a side door and found that all of the rooms had been ransacked.

BURGLARS FIND SAFE OPEN AND TAKE $2.61

Watchman Hears Them Inside, Calls the Police, but They Escape.

An unlocked safe in the office of Lee Levy & Co., wholesale whiskey dealers, 222 Market street, made easy work for burglars, who forced their way into the place Sunday night. For their trouble the burglars got $2.61.

They removed all the papers from the safe in their search for more money, and a night watchman, making his rounds, heard them inside and reported to the police. He went in and found papers scattered over the office floor.

Main Changes to Snow at Dexter, Mo. DEXTER, Mo., Oct. 20.—At sunrise this morning the ground was covered with snow which had fallen during the night. Rain, which was falling in the early night, changed to snow.

BRIDEGROOM, 21, SON OF A JEWELER, ADMITS FORGERY

Myron Friede, Arrested in Cafe, Attributes Downfall to Unhappy Marriage.

PASSED SIX BAD CHECKS

He Left Wife, Daughter of Policeman, Few Days After Marriage.

Locked up at police headquarters on a charge of forgery, Myron Friede, 21 years old, who gives his address as 5315
 Delmar boulevard, blames his youthful marriage to Della Fox, daughter of Robert Fox, a policeman, who lived at 4183
 Morgan street, for all his troubles.

He was too young to get married, he says; his wife and he separated in two or three days because they were not congenial, and then he "just let things go to pot." He professes profound admiration for his father-in-law, who, however, doesn't reciprocate.

"I had been looking for him," the policeman said grimly Monday morning,
 "and I guess it was as well for him I didn't find him. I sent my daughter out of town so she wouldn't see him again."

Gave Bad Check to Chauffeur.
 Friede, who is the son of J. M. Friede of 5315 Delmar, vice-president of the El-senstadt Manufacturing Co., is charged with giving a worthless check for $23 to Samuel Bias, a chauffeur of 4111 Delmar, after he had ridden in Bias' machine for an evening. Bias followed him into a restaurant at 2609 Olive street
 Sunday night, and pointed him out to a detective. He was taken to the station before he had time to eat the roast beef sandwich he had ordered.

The prisoner admitted to reporters he had given the worthless check to Bias, and had passed five other bad checks, amounting in all to $53. He did this to live, he said, as he was out of a job, and was ashamed to ask his father for money.

"There is no use talking," Friede remarked, "getting married too young is the very worst thing a man can do. I lost my grip after my marriage. I have brought so much disgrace on my family that I don't much care what becomes of me."

Further Arrested.
 His marriage to the policeman's daugh-

When She Gets In.

ter took place Sept. 23, the day after her father had stopped the girl and him at Union Station at 1:30 a. m., as they were about to elope to Springfield, Ill.
 The girl's mother missed them after they had stolen away from her home about midnight, and notified Fox, who was on duty at the Wyoming Street Police Station.

Although the elopement was averted,
 Mrs. Fox accompanied the pair next day to the office of a justice of the peace, where the marriage took place.
 Friede says that after the first day his wife, in a burst of temper, ordered him to get out, and that three days later he concluded they couldn't be happy together, and left her.

At the time of the marriage Friede was quoted as saying he had known his bride only a few days. Monday he said he had known her four months. His father declares she had been acquainted with Friede about two years.

Friede said companions often had wished to introduce him to Miss Fox, but that for some reason he had formed a dislike for her before he ever saw her.
 After the introduction, however, he declares he fell violently in love with her.

"I found, after our marriage, that nobody could ask a better mother-in-law than I had, and I think the world of her father, but we just couldn't get along together."

Patrolman Fox refused to say where his wife and daughter have gone. He is staying at a hotel at 208 North Grand avenue, which is owned by a brother.
 His brother's wife said she didn't know where Mrs. Robert Fox and Mrs. Friede had gone, or why they left the city.

Fox spoke harshly of his son-in-law.
 He declared Friede's father had told him he once got the son out of difficulties in California. The elder Friede is supposed to be well-to-do.

DEMURRERS SUSTAINED

IN $25,000 LIBEL SUIT

Judge Holds Mrs. Weeke Has No
 Cause for Action Against Post-
 Dispatch and Kreismann.

Judge Whitrow Monday sustained de-murrers of both defendants in the $25-000 libel suit of Nellie J. Weeke against former Mayor F. H. Kreismann and the Pulitzer Publishing Co. The suit grew out of an interview with the former Mayor published in the Post-Dispatch last January in regard to testimony given by Mrs. Weeke in her divorce suit against "Hank" Weeke, Republican politician.

The demurrer filed by the law firm of Judson, Green & Henry for the publishing company set forth that the article complained of was not libelous and that the petition did not state a cause of action.

Kreismann's demurrer, presented by the firm of Sale & Sale, set forth that there was no ground for damages set forth in the complaint.

Bill

In Which Our Hero and Izzy Katz Are Arrayed on Opposite Sides of a Case and Fight It Out.

By PAUL WEST.

When two office boys undertake to decide the merits of opposite sides of a case it is time to look out for squalls. But when "Bill" is one of them you may count on plenty of fun also.

ONE day just after trough time a swell bundle of rags blows in an alms house laundry ticket. I sneaks it in to the Boss an' he lumps it.

"Miss Lulu Montrose," he says. "Isn't that the lady appearin' at the Summer Garden?" he says. "Search me, Boss," I says. "I ain't familiar wid dem swell dammers, but," I says, "she looks the part, all right."

"Well, send her in," he says, an' I rushes Lulu in through Ethel's room an' plants her wid the Boss.

"Per heavin's sakes," Ethel says, "who's that?"

"Oh, a little fren' o' mine," I says. "Aha!" she says. "I tought I reck-onized her face! What's she doin' here?" she says.

"To be honest wid yer, an' relieve yer poor old mind, Ethel," I says, "she's fell in love wid me, an' is astin' the sends me down ter the cigar counter fer some fifty-centers, which was a sign he seen easy pickin' ahead. An' down there I meets Izzy Katz an' a whole bunch o' the kids, an' they're all wise to us havin' the big case.

"Ter a lucky guy," Izzy says. "My boss is a mutt, an' if he don't land somebig big like that pretty soon I'm goin' ter leave him flat!"

"Cheer up," I says, "you'll get yourn yet!"

An' by goah, he done it! I hadn't got me hat in me pocket nex' mornin' when Izzy's on the phone.

"Hey, Shrimp," he says, "we're bruders!"

"Hoy d'youse make it?" I says. "We're on the same case," he says. "I don't getcher," I says. "Why," he says, "the big case—Lulu!" "Yeah, I know," I says, "but where d'youse come in?" "Why," he says, "we got the other side—the genulman Lulu's tryin' ter shake down." "What good's that?" I says.

"A swell bundle o' rags blows in."

Boss kin he spare me fer to marry her a week from nex' Chuesday!"

"Quit yer kiddin'," she says. "But just the same, I wonder," he says, "what Lulu's been doin'. She's a bold lookin' piece," she says. "Mebbe it's another one o' them lady murder cases."

"Nix on yer life," I says. "Violet Vane was the last o' them kind, unless the Boss' wife is loosed her pull wid him," I says. So all we could do was try an' guess, an' poor Ethel was fair dotty over it, but it didn't bother me.

Finally the Boss' bell rung, an' he wants Ethel wid her note book, an' mebbe I had to tell her four or five times. I don't tink!

Well, byme bye she comes out, an' she's the happy gink. She sits down to the typewriter, but she couldn't hold it, so she grabs the 'phone funnel an' begins doin' talk-marathons wid the other key-rattlers round the buildin'. It's pretty hard work keepin' score on what a dame's sayin' when she mixes it all up wid floatin' lace an' a turbine hat wid regents on it, an' them kinder dope, but I sorter digs out that this Lulu baby's been goin' ter marry some gink by name of Van Alstyne or somep'n like that, only he's giv' her the car-bell signal, an' she's sorta about it, so she's goin' ter sue him for a bunch o' kale.

"An' I certainly hope the poor little thing gets it," Ethel says to the last dame she tells it to, handin' up the funnel an' wipin' her glimmers. "The brute!" she says, lookin' at her notes an' hittin' the typewriter a couple o' punches. "What's the date?" she says. "The sixteenth," I says. "Was you aludly at me?"

"Ter all soundrels!" she says. "The whole lot o' youse should ought to be chucked overboard an' drowned," she says. "Ugh!"

"Pretty!" I says. "Take it home an' try it on yer husband some rainy Sunday," I says. "What's some naughty soundrel been doin' ter little Lulu, the Zulu?" I says.

"Breakin' her heart, same as they all do," she says. "Winnin' her confidin' love, an' then, just when she tinks she's hooked a fine millionaire husband, chuckin' her over like she was an old shoe or somep'n," she says. "An' blighnin' her fair young life," she says. "Up the funnel!" I says. "I noticed Lulu was lookin' bad. About as bad as a share in the world's series rake-off 'd look to a tallender," I says.

"Just the same," she says, "she's so broke up she can't hardly do her part in the show, an' her nerves is unstrung somep'n fearful. But, you wait," she says. "She's goin' ter make the brute say good fer it!"

"Fine," I says. "About how much?"

"A million dollars is what she's astin'," she says. "An' cheap enough for a maiden's heart which is cleft in twain," she says.

"Cheap?" I says. "It's fairly givin' it away!" she says. "When you tinker a guy kin beat his wife up an' only pay $10 ter the Judge. It seems kinder steep."

Well, you know how them things spreads around. After Lulu goes, slipper me two bits on the way out an' she's a fine little kid, the Boss

"It's her'll have the cash when we get ter 'rough wid him." "Like fun she will," he says. "We'll see about that, all right," he says. "Youse sharpers can't be blackmalin' a respectable man like Mister Van Alstyne an' gettin' away wid it," he says. "Respectable! Him! He's a brute an' a soundrel," I says, an' I dunno how far it would of went only Central rung us off.

Could you beat that! A bunch o' shysters like Izzy was workin' fer callin' my Boss a sharper! I told the Boss about it.

"Who give you the information?" he says. "Izzy Katz," I says. "He works fer 'em. I wouldn't stand fer it, Boss," I says.

"Ah, well," he says, "leave us not get unduly het up over it. Bill, in law," he says, "they is a lot said which nobody means an' which is said fer effect. When your fren' Miss Izzy Kitz—"

"Katz, Boss," I says.

"I stand corrected," he says. "When he refers to me as a sharper, repeat, in the appellation he has doubtless heard in the office of which he is a shinin' luminary," he says, "he means nothin'. Pay no attention to it," he says. "Laugh at it."

"But, Boss," I says. "I can't stand nobody callin' you names."

"Fear not, Bill," he said. "I'll be callin' a few meself before this case is over."

"Fine, Boss," I says. "Mebbe you'd slip me a few hat now fer to sling back at Izzy if he gets flossy wid me."

"I tink, Bill," he says, "you kin furnish yer own supply!"

"Him tellin' me not to say nothin' to Izzy didn't keep me from doin' it, though, an' a couple o' times we'd of gone to the mat together only fer the starter an' some other guys that happened fer to nall us before we got right at it." The Boss hears o' this, an' he nalls me.

"Ye gott'er stop this, Bill," he says. "Lissen to me," he says. "I deeply prelate yer int'res in me," he says, "the Zulu!" I says.

"Breakin' her heart, same as they all do," she says. "Winnin' her confidin' love, an' then, just when she tinks she's hooked a fine millionaire husband, chuckin' her over like she was an old shoe or somep'n," she says. Beau Brummel of Old Days, Home After Two Years Abroad, as "Daringly Exquisite" in Dress as of Yore—Loves the Tango and Is Expert at It.

By M. LODIEWICK.

IT is good to see Berry Wall, the American Beau Brummel, in dear old America after a two years' absence from this country. With his charming wife and mother he has been enjoying Europe, for, as he puts it, "over there the newspapers don't tag one everywhere." Pity me had he known I was thus interested!

He was wearing a delightful evening suit, which had wide shaped revers of black velvet, lending it considerable character, while cut jet buttons added to the general effect. Two of them, held together with braid loops, formed the coat fastening, and three of them, trimmed each sleeve. At the wrists the softly starched rolls of his turn-back cuffs appeared with round links of pearl centered with diamonds. Four studs to match held the front of his shirt, which was finely plaited, but not so fine as the ordinary thousand-plaited style.

His collar was a most noticeable feature! Open in front with a spread of at least an inch, the points extended out beyond the chin, while the width was extraordinary.

No one but Berry Wall could have worn it with such confidence and grace. And no doubt because of its laudable comfort it was the envy of many a man who would have worn such creation. His waistcoat was of brocade silk with wide revers, whose soft roll showed inside of his coat.

It was at an afternoon tea the following day that Mrs. Wall appeared, attired in the charming little frock which I have sketched and which Mr. Wall, in a half confiding manner, assured me aided in selecting.

Of a faded blue chiffon cloth, closely figured with a small raspberry and pale yellow colored flower, the dress was made in that sweet, simple style so becoming to every age. Double fichus of the material edged with deep cream color Alencon lace, draped to shoulders, dropping to the elbows, and crossing in both front and back in the manner shown.

The skirt was very full at the top, the caught up in a panner effect at each side and draped into a panel of raspberry color silk in back, which fell from a girle of the same.

In regard to this dress Mr. Wall remarked: "I like these little Dolly Varden effects, and to my mind it was quite in harmony with his expressed admiration for the sweet old-fashioned girl. So I was not surprised when he expressed his views on suffrage, upholding strongly the anti.

I feel I should not neglect to give mention to Mr. Wall's attire on this afternoon when he called to escort his wife and mother from the tea.

Being outside of the city, he was quite informal in a suit of golden brown blaided into squares two and a half inches wide by black and yellow lines. Above the somewhat low buttoning of the coat a dull yellow waistcoat of cotton brocade revealed itself. Really it wasn't so noisy as it sounds.

His tie, in a little browner shade than the waistcoat, was in harmony with the whole, and was knotted in a loose bow in front. His collar with this suit was after the fashion of the one mentioned, only more extreme in every dimension.

The tea was very much to his liking, as he says he hasn't tasted anything stronger in 15 years. But I think the dancing pleased him even more, for he was a most enthusiastic participant.

"Yes," said Mr. Wall, as he made a graceful tango dip, "I am very fond of the tango," he pronounced it with an "ah," "tahnge," and it must be proper, for his dancing is surely perfect, and he learned it in Paris.

"Anyone," he said, "can do the turkey trot, but I do pride myself on being able to master the more intricate steps."

It is fair to reason that society will find him as fine leader of the late dances as he was of the old-time steps.

her show, an' lookin' like that poor little heart o' hern was healin' up preys good, all right.

"I'm tinkin' she's gettin' better," I says to Ethel.

"Tis only a mask to hide her wounded soul," she says. "The poor thing's only temporarily happy because it looks like the brute is goin' ter settle."

"You don't tell me," I says. "Do Izzy Katz know it yet, I wonder?"

"He'll know it, all right," she says, "before the day's over."

"There's to be a meetin' here after lunch," she says, "between the parties, fer to see can't it be fixed up outer court?"

Sure enough I gets the steer from the Boss fer to slide some extry chairs inter his office, an' 'long durin' the afternoon in comes Lulu, happy as a White Wings in a new uniform. An' a little while after who sits in, lookin' kind o' ugly, but Izzy's boss, Miss O'Brien, an' a guy what looked like he was waitin' fer a bomb to be goin' off every minnut.

"Toll Mister Hadley," Izzy's boss says, "I'm here wid Mister Van Alstyne."

"Come right in, gents," I says, "we're waitin' fer youse now. Nice day after the rain, ain't it?" I says. "Looks like we'd be havin' a little more, though. No? Yes?" I says, an' I slips 'em inter the Boss' office.

"Was that the soundrel?" Ethel says when I come out.

"Yeah," I says. "He don't look it, do he?"

"He'll look it less when Lulu gets 'trough wid his check book today," she says. "Gee, I'd give me hopes of a set o' furs fer to be in there now!"

"I was kinder sore, too, not bein' ast in, so's I could have it to be tallin' at least an inch, the points extended out beyond the chin, while the width was extraordinary.

Mister O'Brien."

"Call up my office," he says, "an' tell my boy to bring down that big envelope on my desk." So I goes out an' phones up. It's Izzy answers.

"This is Mister Hadley Esquire's office," I says. "Please have that squint-eyed office boy o' yours bring down that big envelope on Mister O'Brien's desk." I says, "an' tell him to be lively or his Boss'll can him." An' I rung off. Pretty soon down comes Izzy, lookin' mad, but I don't say nothin' to him, only take the envelope in an' hand it to his Boss, who says he's to wait outside. I tells Izzy, an' gives him a seat, an' fer awhile it's all nice an' quiet, till I couldn't hold in no longer.

"Well, Izzy," I says, "I see that low-browed soundrel o' yours is decided it's the only square t'ing fer to dig." "Huh!" Izzy says. "That's what," I says. "They're in there fixin' it up you know," I says. "We don't want to be hard on him," I says, "but we gott'er think o' our poor little wounded heart, Lulu," I says. "Wounded heart!" he says. "She's a blackmalin'er! A—a Harpie," my Boss says. "She may be a blackmalin'er," I says, "but she's no harp, any more'n you are!" "She's a adventuress," he says. "She's shook down a fine genulman, an' she can't get away wid it while they's justice in this land," he says, like he was talkin' out of a book. Of course, I knowed where he got it, listenin' to his Boss.

"Turn off the steam heat," I says. "The room's too warm," my Boss says. "Is a innocent little maiden what's been heart-broke by the now whatever it is o' your philanderin' soundrel of a client," I says.

"Can that an' sell it fer one o' the fifty-seven v'ietles," he says. "Yer a bunch o' grafters, an' youse know it!"

"I wouldn't be caught dead by the sweeper," I says, "in your office. As fer this gink what trun Lulu down," I says, "he'd oughter be tarred an' feathered, an' I tink after we get his money we'll do it!"

"Ye will not," he says, gettin' offen his chair an' kinder slidin' over to me. "Ye will not. He's an all right guy, an' Lulu's a grafter!"

"Say that agen," I says. "She's a grafter," he says, an' I hands him one. "Will youse take that back?" I says. "Will youse take back callin' Van Alstyne a soundrel?" he says. "I will not," I says, "an' I'll shake you down after we get 'trough wid him." Try it," he says, an' comes over the railin' at me.

Well, it sure was some mix-up, an' believe me, I never knowed Izzy was that game before, the way he come at me. I guess we made some little noise, because Ethel come runnin' out, an' when she seen what was doin' she let out a scream like 12 o'clock, an' goes rushin' back into the Boss' room.

"Come out," she says. "They're killin' each other!"

An' they come out! The first t'ing I knowed my Boss has me by the collar, an' Izzy's has him by the neck, an' they're draggin' us apart, the boss or them hollerin' to know what's the matter.

"Matter!" I says. "Matter! Boss, I allow nobody to come in here callin' youse names, an' sayn we're a bunch o' grafters, an' Lulu's one, too!"

"Is that so?" Izzy says. "I'll learn youse to say my Boss is a shyster, an' Mister Van Alstyne a simp, an' them things!"

"Here, here!" my Boss says. "That'll do!" An' they made us bot tell our story. When we was through nobody says nothin' for a little while; then my Boss says to Izzy's Boss:

"Well, Brother," he says, "what are we goin' to do 'em gents?"

"Search me," Izzy's Boss says. "I've gave it up long ago."

"Shall we discharge 'em bot?" my Boss says.

"No, no," Lulu hollers, an' Van Alstyne's about as quick. "Make 'em shake hands an' call it all off, like we done," she says.

An' that's what we done!

THE IMP O' DREAMS.

HERE snoozes John the Steeple Jack. Digestin' thus his midday snack. The Imp o' Dreams is drawing near. He'll wake poor Johnny up, I fear.

My, how this steeple looms aloft! "This climbin' job," cries John, "soff!"

But, oh! the more he climbs on high! The more the spire seeks the sky!

Up, up, a million feet or so, And John has still some miles to go. Look out! He slips! Oh, dearie, oh! Now down through space just see him go.

Ha, ha! It's nothing but a dream, And just as John begins to scream He wakes—and finds he's safe and sound.

"That Imp," he says, "has been around!"

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH'S DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

STOCKS BARELY STEADY ON THE EASTERN MARKET

Trading Is Rather Professional in Character; London Offers Money.

By leased wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Possibly the main influence really bearing on the Stock Exchange movement today was Saturday's strong bank statement.

"Since those weekly figures are published on the Wall Street gossip of Monday treat them as a bygone influence, but since they are never published until after the stock market is closed on Saturday, they have no direct effect on the market until the opening of the next week.

"The statement indicated a rather unusual strengthening of the bank position; as against the $10,000,000 increase in the surplus during the past two weeks, the same fortnight in 1912 brought but $2,000,000, while in 1911, $5,000,000, while in 1910 and 1909 there was no increase at all.

"The point of view, however, is the light it throws on certain favorable elements in the New York bank position.

"Because of the abnormally large gold shipments to Europe, earlier in the year, the New York banks are not as strong in cash reserves as they have been in many previous autumns. But interior banks—largely because of the Government deposits—are in good position.

"As for Europe's markets, they are on balance undoubtedly in our debt. They do not wish to accept gold; but the alternative may be for London to relieve our money market through lenders here in order to keep down New York money rates and avert an effective demand by us on the foreign gold supplies.

"The day's stock market scarcely called for comment, except in so far as it represented the evening of a speculative venture in various individual stocks.

"This meant that the day's movement was irregular, marking no uniform tendency, except that as a rule the early declines were followed by rather prompt recovery.

"Neither in the day's move news nor in the foreign market movement, was there any distinct impetus to Stock Exchange activity and the market closed in the afternoon fell into complete inactivity."

London Offers Money.

"The money market situation was made extremely interesting by the offering of money here by London institutions. This lending caused a further weakening of the market and was taken to mean that banking interests on the other side were willing to make advances to our money markets in order to avert sending gold.

"The movement was broad enough to indicate that such loans may have been a considerable factor in bringing about the $4,000,000 loan reduction shown by clearing house institutions last Saturday.

"Most of the lending was done by very large interests and with the further break in exchange today it was said that the movement may have been more of a factor this week.

"The loans were made on Stock Exchange collateral and were both on call and on time, most of the accommodation being for short periods.

"The banks here had plenty of money to put out on call, but the offering on time was somewhat restricted.

"None of the interior banks were large lenders here, and although there was some paying off of loans by banks at the South, there were applications for reductions received from institutions in the West."

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S WALL STREET TRANSACTIONS

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Stock market trading opened 1/4% higher, with copper 1/2% and Canadian Pacific 1/4% higher. Aside from these changes, movements were unimportant, with a light volume of trading. Fluctuations in most cases showed an upward trend.

Standard shares moved indecisively until the weakness of New Haven, Pennsylvania Can and Tennessee Copper became noticeable. Then the whole lot moved off Union Pacific, Reading and various other issues were depressed a point or more.

Bonds were irregular.

A reaction which followed the opening rise was a bit discouraging to the bulls. Stocks were offered rather heavily by London level and professionals who had joined the upward movement. The market showed a short side again. Weakness of Can, which carried a point, and the fact that the immediate general movement, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Reading, Steel and Union Pacific, all showed a downward trend.

He Found Out.
MR. PINCHPENNY had a habit of getting professional services free whenever he needed them by working some sort of a dodge or other. Not long ago he met his doctor on the street.
"Dr. Goodfellow," he said, "I know a man who is suffering agonies from neuralgia. At times it is so bad he simply howls with the pain. What would you do in that case?"
"Well, I don't know," was the doctor's prompt reply. "I suppose I should howl with pain too."

It Was That.

It was Sunday and two small boys were industriously digging in a vacant lot, when a man who was passing stopped to give them a lecture. "Don't you know that it is a sin to dig on Sunday unless it be a case of necessity?" asked the good man.
"Yes, sir," timidly replied one of the boys.
"Then why don't you stop it?"
"Cause this is a case of necessity," replied the little philosopher. "A feller can't fish without bait." - Argonaut.

Stories St. Louisans Tell

ONE ON HIM.

FRIENDS of Dr. O. A. Wall Jr., quiz master of the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, say he tells this story: Students at the college formed a quiz class. One rule of the class was that the student asking a question must be able to answer it. A member of the class asked: "Why is it that when a squirrel bores a hole in a tree there are no gnawings of wood around the entrance of the hole?"
The whole class missed, and it was necessary for the member asking the question to answer it himself, and his answer was: "Because the squirrel begins at the other end."
That wasn't quite clear to one of the students who had missed, and he asked, "But where is the other end?"
The reply he received was: "Now, that's your question!"

He Deserved It.

THE youth was puffing away at a pipe, despite the pained expression on the old lady's face.
"Young man," she barked, so far as her coughing would permit her, "do you know that it's wrong to smoke?"

"Well," replied the lad as he blew a wreath of smoke, "I use tobacco for my health."

"Health!" ejaculated the victim, in spluttering tones. "Nonsense! You never heard of anyone being cured by smoking."

"Yes I have," declared the youth, still puffing away like a furnace chimney. "That's the way they cure pigs."

"Then smoke away," cried the victim. "There may be hope for you yet."

A Familiar Path.

SEVERAL young women were discussing a wedding which had taken place the previous day.

"And do you know," continued the first, "just as Frank and the widow started up the aisle to the altar every light in the church went out!"

This startling bit of information was greeted by a number of "Ohs!"

"What did the couple do then?" finally inquired one.

"Kept on going. The widow knew the way."

"WAS the circus exciting?"

"Yes, the action was in-

Regal Tango Pump

Put "Go" into The Tango

By daylight or electric light, every occasion has its Regal—even the "Tango." An oval strip of cross-grooved rubber sunk into the sole of the "Tango Pump" prevents slipping. The heel is pocketed—it can't lift or shift. The "counter" is lined with non-slipping Black Ooze Leather. Round town you pay $5.00, $7.00 and $1.00 for "Tango Pumps." In a Regal the self-same style costs you only $3.00. Regal Tango Pumps—$3 In Patent or Dull Leather. For "Tango Teas" or Evening Dances.
